Organizations want to grow and retain talent to better meet business needs, but are struggling with fragmented talent development programs, siloed and stale skills data, and a lack of agility. Eightfold Talent Management transforms and unifies your talent management investments with an AI-powered, employee-centric career hub and rich insights into skills and capabilities to unlock workforce potential.

For employees, Eightfold Career Hub combines and curates internal growth opportunities to deliver real-time personalized development paths to each individual and enable equitable access to growth opportunities. These development paths feature the optimal mix of project-based experiential learning, skill-based mentor matching for social learning, course-based formal learning, and internal roles to pursue next.

For business leaders, Eightfold Talent Management delivers a real-time, unbiased view of workforce skills development and potential. Managers can understand the skills on their team and individual readiness for growth opportunities, and talent teams can build internal talent pipelines and deploy formal programs to address organizational skills and capability gaps.

Eightfold Talent Management is built on the Eightfold Talent Intelligence Platform, a purpose-built, deep-learning artificial intelligence technology that is powered by an ever-refreshing global data set of billions of talent data points and millions of unique skills.
